In a hostel, a student comes in contact with a number of other students. She acquires many good qualities from them. When a student sees her next door neighbor daily taking morning exercise, she also gets inspiration. She too tries to be healthy. One good student may become an example for other hosteler’s. When one is ill, all her hostel fellows try their best to serve her. Mutual cooperation, sympathy, and love are characteristic of hostel life. When a careless and negligent student sees her partner or neighbour competing for position, she also tries to follow her example. Hostel life not only develops the spirit of healthy competition, but also teaches the lesson of mutual cooperation.
