Trash to Treasure: Creative College Solutions and Decorative Products

Kottayam: The Sustainability Fair, organized by the YUVA SCAS Chapter in collaboration with the Commerce Association and IQAC, was held on September 19, 2025, at the Open Auditorium of Saintgits College of Applied Sciences. The event, themed "Trash to Treasure: Creative College Solutions and Decorative Products," highlighted the ingenuity of students in transforming discarded materials into innovative and aesthetically appealing products. The fair featured a wide array of creations, including decorative items and practical solutions, all crafted from recycled materials by SCAS students. In addition, the event showcased vibrant posters both digital and hand-drawn designed by the participants, adding an artistic and informative dimension to the fair. Each exhibit demonstrated creativity, resourcefulness, and a strong commitment to environmental responsibility. By presenting waste in a new light, the event encouraged attendees to reconsider the value of everyday materials and adopt sustainable practices. Through this, students not only showcased their artistic and technical skills but also fostered awareness about sustainability and eco-conscious living. The fair promoted innovation, environmental responsibility and problem-solving within the college community.
